TASKS III:

Changing Tasks – Consequences for Inequality

3. International
BiBB/IAB/ZEW
Conference

Date:

May 26 – 28, 2014

Location:

Institute for Employment
Research (IAB),
Nuremberg, Germany

The Federal Institute for Vocational Education and Training (BiBB), the Institute for Employment Research (IAB) and the Centre for European Economic Research (ZEW) are pleased to invite you to attend the jointly organized third international TASKS conference. The conference is concerned with the role of job tasks for labour market outcomes. A special focus of the conference is on the change of job tasks over time and its potential impact on wage inequality. In many industrialized countries the wage distribution has changed significantly in the last decades, which has led to an increased wage inequality. Simultaneously, we observe a changing task structure in those economies. Hence, the conference aims at understanding the relationship between increasing wage and employment inequality on the one hand and the changing task structure on the other hand.

The scientific committee therefore encourages contributions from all areas of labour economics and related fields focusing on the role of tasks in explaining changes in the wage and employment structure. Sociological, pedagogical or cross-disciplinary perspectives utilizing the task framework to address inequalities like unequal access to jobs or occupational positions due to educational or personal backgrounds or further aspects of inequality are expressly welcome. Moreover, the conference invites contributions using the task-based approach for clarification of related research questions, e.g. with regard to technology, changing skill demand, occupational mobility, local labour markets, trade, offshoring, the role of institutions, labour market imperfections, measuring tasks or operationalizing tasks and task groups. Both, empirical and theoretical papers are welcome.
