

Prize for the Best Scientific Publication 2020/2021 at ZEW – Leibniz Centre for European Economic Research

In 2021, the ZEW Sponsors' Association for Science and Practice will again endow the prize for the best publication in a scientific journal by ZEW single staff members (or with co-authors). The prize is endowed with 5,000 euros and is awarded once a year.

All journal articles that were accepted for publication between July 2020 and June 2021, whose authors have a ZEW affiliation and had ZEW staff status at the time of acceptance (based on the main applicant) are eligible to apply. All members of a project team will be recognized together. In addition to scientific excellence, the relevance of the economic and political application of the research contribution will be evaluated.

The Board of the Sponsors' Association asks for applications to be submitted to the office of the Sponsors' Association (foerderkreis@zew.de) by 15 June 2021.

The application documents (max. four pages) include:

- Description of the content of the paper;
- Details of the journal in which it was published;
- Presentation of the scientific and economic and political relevance of the research results.
The paper should explain how it bridges the gap between science and economic policy advice;
- Information on the submitting author and co-authors;
- Also, a cover letter signed by all authors and addressed to the Board.

The final selection of the award winners will be made by the Board of Directors of the ZEW Sponsors' Association. The award ceremony will take place on 9 December 2021.

The Board of the ZEW Sponsors' Association for Science and Practice, February 2021.