11th ZEW Summer Workshop for Young Economists

July 13-16, 2009

The ZEW Summer Workshop is an annual event taking place at the Centre for European Economic Research in Mannheim, Germany. The Summer Workshop is a forum of discussion between a group of talented young researchers and established researchers to study new developments in a special field of economics.

This year the focus is on empirical labour economics. Three distinguished lecturers will show new perspectives on the topic and also give practical advice how to survive in academia. Participants have the opportunity to present their own work and discuss with senior scholars in a casual atmosphere.

Lecturers

Deborah Cobb-Clark (Australian National University): "Gender Bias at Work"Markus Frölich (University of Mannheim): "Impact Assessment"Daniel S. Hamermesh (University of Texas): "Time Use Data"

The ZEW Summer Workshop is open to around 20 advanced graduate students engaged in the preparation of a doctoral dissertation and post doctorates within three years after completion of their PhD. We invite talented young economists working in all areas of labour economics.

During the Summer Workshop, the Heinz-König-Young-Scholar-Award will be awarded to the best paper presented by a scholar younger than 35 of age. The award is funded by the ProMinent Dosiertechnik GmbH and consists of a prize of 5,000 Euro and a three months residential fellowship at ZEW.

Participants may apply for financial support from ZEW to cover travel and accommodation expenses.
