Advanced Empirical Methods in Environmental and Innovation Economics

17th ZEW Summer Workshop for Young Economists

Mannheim, July 6-9, 2015

The Centre for European Economic Research (ZEW) is pleased to announce its 17th Summer Workshop for Young Economists. This year's workshop targets econometric methods related to the analysis of innovation, with a particular focus on environmental innovation. The objective of the workshop is to bring together promising international young researchers for a week of intense training by renowned international scholars. The four-day summer workshop includes lectures and paper presentations, and ample time will be allowed for discussions among attendees.

Young scholars who wish to attend the workshop are invited to submit a paper. Papers should have an empirical focus and be related to one of the following economic topics:

- ▶ Innovation and technological change
- ▶ Green innovation
- ▶ Ex-post evaluation of innovation and environmental policies

Keynote Lecturers

- ▶ Dirk Czarnitzki (K.U. Leuven, Belgium)
- ▶ Antoine Dechezleprêtre (London School of Economics, UK)
- ▶ Mark J. Roberts (Pennsylvania State University, USA)

Participants

Advanced doctoral students and postdocs within three years after completion of their thesis are invited to apply. The ZEW Summer Workshop is open to about 20 participants. Participants may apply for financial support from ZEW to cover travel and accommodation expenses. Please submit your complete paper to be presented (preliminary versions are welcome) and your CV to summerworkshop2015@zew.de no later than March 15, 2015.
