

CALL FOR PAPERS

// INTERNATIONAL CONFERENCE ON

Technology, Demographics, and the Labor Market

March 29-30, 2019,
University of Cologne, Germany

The conference focuses on technological change, including change through automation, digitalization, or outsourcing, and demographics in industrialized countries, as well as on the ways these phenomena interact with employment, wages, and participation in the labor market. Researchers are invited to submit empirical and theoretical contributions on this topic from all areas of economics and sociology.

KEYNOTE SPEAKERS

- ▶ Tali Kristal (University of Haifa)
- ▶ Thibaut Lamadon (University of Chicago)
- ▶ Christopher Taber (University of Wisconsin-Madison)

PARTICIPATION

Please submit full papers (preliminary versions are welcome) in PDF format to Angelika Ganserer via email to dfg1764@zew.de. If possible include up to four JEL Codes. Travel and accommodation costs will be reimbursed for speakers (one speaker per paper).

DEADLINE FOR PAPER SUBMISSION

December 18, 2018

Selection decisions will be made by January 24, 2019

SCIENTIFIC COMMITTEE

Martin Abraham (University of Erlangen-Nuremberg), Gerard van den Berg (University of Bristol), Christian Dustmann (University College London), Bernd Fitzenberger (Humboldt University of Berlin and ZEW), Susanne Prantl (University of Cologne), Alexandra Spitz-Oener (Humboldt University of Berlin).

ORGANIZERS

Bernd Fitzenberger (Humboldt University of Berlin and ZEW), Susanne Prantl (University of Cologne)

The conference is sponsored by the German Research Foundation (DFG) as part of the Priority Program, "The German Labor Market in a Globalized World – Challenges through Trade, Technology, and Demographics" (SPP 1764) and by the University of Cologne.

CONTACT

Angelika Ganserer, Centre for European Economic Research (ZEW)
Research Department "Labour Markets and Human Resources"
P.O. Box 10 34 43, 68161 Mannheim, Germany
E-mail: dfg1764@zew.de

The German Labor Market
in a Globalized World

