

International Conference on The Role of the Firm in the Labor Market

March 31 to April 1, 2017

Location: Humboldt University of Berlin, Germany

Organizers: B. Fitzenberger · A. Spitz-Oener, HU Berlin

The conference focuses on all aspects of firm-level decisions and firm-level developments as they impact upon labor market outcomes in industrialized countries. We invite empirical and theoretical contributions on this topic from all areas of economics, management research, and sociology.

Keynote Speakers

- ▶ Sandra Black (University of Texas at Austin)
- ▶ Roberto Fernandez (Massachusetts Institute of Technology)
- ▶ Michael Waldman (Cornell University)

Participation: Please submit full papers (preliminary versions are welcome) in PDF format to Arne Jonas Warnke via e-mail: dfg1764@zew.de. If possible, include up to four JEL Codes. Travel and accommodation costs will be reimbursed for speakers (one speaker per paper).

Deadline for Paper Submission: December 4, 2016

Decision of acceptance will be reached by January 10, 2017.

Scientific Committee: Gerard van den Berg (University of Mannheim), Holger Bonin (IZA), Christian Dustmann (University College London), Bernd Fitzenberger (Humboldt University of Berlin), Peter Haan (DIW), Markus Gangl (Goethe University Frankfurt), Stephen Machin (University College London and Centre for Economic Performance), Dirk Sliwka (University of Cologne), Alexandra Spitz-Oener (Humboldt University of Berlin).

The conference is sponsored by the German Research Foundation (DFG) as part of the Priority Programme, “The German Labour Market in a Globalised World – Challenges through Trade, Technology, and Demographics” (SPP 1764), by the German Institute for Economic Research (DIW) Berlin, by the Institute for the Study of Labor (IZA), Bonn, and by the Humboldt University of Berlin.
